:: Basic Education ::

During the Freedom Movement, Bapu had also taken up the noble work of Character Development and Social Reforms, so that, the dream of 'Swarajya to Surajya' can be achieved after independence. For this, Pujya Bapu developed 'Basic Education Method; which is also called as Vardha Talim / Buniyadi Talim / Nai Talim. Bapu had rightly said, "Basic Education Method is my ultimate and invaluable contribution to the Society".

Basic education Method is totally different than the current education Method. This education system focuses on learning by practical experience. The focus areas of Basic Education Method includes Self-Help Education, Mother Tongue as Medium of learning, equal contribution of students in decision making, value based education instead of exam oriented education, co-education, Importance of Physical Activities in Education, Equal importance of informal learning and Simple Living & High Thinking.

Basic Education Method is my Ultimate and Invaluable contribution to the society.

– Pujya Bapu
